COMPANY OVERVIEW

FuelCell Energy, Inc. (NASDAQ: FCEL) is a global leader in developing environmentally responsible distributed baseload power solutions through their proprietary fuel cell technology. They develop turn-key distributed power generation solutions and operate and provide comprehensive services for the life of the power plant. They are working to expand the proprietary technologies that they have developed over the past five decades into new products, markets and geographies.

The company's mission and purpose remains to utilize their proprietary, state-of-the-art fuel cell power plants to reduce the global environmental footprint of baseload power generation by providing environmentally responsible solutions for reliable electrical power, hot water, steam, chilling, hydrogen, microgrid applications, and carbon capture and, in so doing, drive demand for their products and services, thus realizing positive stockholder returns.

Their fuel cell solution is a clean, efficient alternative to traditional combustion-based power generation and is complementary to an energy mix consisting of intermittent sources of energy, such as solar and wind turbines. Their systems answer the needs of diverse customers across several markets, including utility companies, municipalities, universities, hospitals, government entities, and a variety of industrial and commercial enterprises.
